“Mr. Larry Findelberg was a pleasure to work with from start to finish. He exemplified being thorough, patient and consistent in this style. He was easily and effortlessly able to provide me with comparative information, without pressuring me in a particular direction. On top of this, he was more than courteous in his demeanor and a true gentleman of integrity. I am grateful that I was able to receive his high level of services. “Larry was our mortgage planner during the purchase of our first home. As first time homebuyers, we at times felt overwhelmed and greatly appreciated all of the expert advice Larry provided throughout the process. Larry is always available to answer questions and provide insight. He really cares about his clients and provides superior customer service. Since purchasing our home, Larry has continued to provide excellent mortgage planning advice. He recently contacted us to conduct our annual mortgage review. In this review, he took into account our plans for the future and our current mortgage and created a long term plan designed especially for us and our financial goals. We can't express enough gratitude for such dedication and excellence to us and our future.”

“With the mortgage market as challenging as it is today, you want a real professional like Larry leading the way to settlement on your purchase. You can count on him to show attention to every detail, to be responsive to your questions and concerns, to not only be tenacious in resolving issues but to pro-actively watch for potential problems. After closing on my loan, my realtors and settlement attorney were not only complementing Larry's work but they were also impressed with the terms of my loan. And the best part...all this professionalism comes with a pleasant and reassuring personality. Larry's work turned the chore of securing financing into a pleasant experience."

"Working with Larry has always been a pleasure. When my wife and I bought our first home, we were young and didn't know the process very well. Larry took us by the hand and patiently led us the entire way- from getting us qualified and explaining our loan options all the way up to the day of closing. He was by our side the whole time, and guided us confidently through that huge step in our lives.

When we refinanced 3 years later to take advantage of some of the equity in our home, Larry once again was straight-forward and informative, and helped us formulate and execute a solid strategy. Larry always has been, and always will be, our mortgage specialist and trusted advisor."

"My fiance and I were recently in the market for a house, one of the many purchases we needed for our new lives together. As first-time homebuyers, we knew we would be learning the ropes of all aspects of the home buying process. We also knew we would have to apply for our first loan, which of course is a big deal. We decided to consult our realtor, who also happened to be a family friend of ours. Knowing that he wouldn't steer us in the wrong direction, we took his recommendation to call Larry Finkelberg, and we're glad we did.

When we met with Larry, he answered all of our questions and was very informative about purchasing a loan. We felt confident that he would understand our concerns as first-time homebuyers, as he was once one himself. Today, we are secure in our home because of his help in choosing the right loan for our budget. We are happy with the results and would gladly recommend his services to others. Thank you, Larry!"

"My husband and I want to thank you for all your help. Right from the very outset you were extremely focused on our financial planning needs. It was a tricky situation given the housing market today. It would definitely not have been possible without your knowledge and perseverance. You more than anybody else knows what our handicaps were and were not only able to work around it but use it to our advantage. We really appreciate your assistance in helping us not only find our dream home, but also making sure that our kids have a good start for their college fund and we have excellent financial tools to plan our future."
